Dear Parents,

Thank you to all the children who have been working hard on their interventions this week. Please remember to have the small red book in school every day. Please feel free to go over any of the work that has been completed in the intervention session.

Thank you to everyone that attended the Meet The Teacher event and Homework Forum on Tuesday, it was lovely to see so many faces. We hope you found the meetings interesting and insightful.

Homework starts this week; each class will receive their homework on a Friday which will then be due in the following Thursday. A reminder that the children should only complete 1 of the given activities. As well as this, the children should be reading and practicing their spellings and times tables every evening.

The children have been showing some wonderful acts of kindness this week and are truly exploring our school values. Everyone is currently working really hard and enjoying their new topics for this term. This week, class 1 have been looking for demonstrations of Creation around the school grounds, class 2 have been studying The River Thames. Class 3 loved working practically outside in maths creating human number lines, and class 4 are working extremely hard in preparation for their class assembly and MacMillan coffee afternoon next Friday.

As part of our Christian Ethos, each class will be starting a new project linked to the wider community. The children will be creating wildlife gardens, giving back to our neighbours, hosting coffee mornings for the whole community, making links with schools in other parts of the world and lots more! We are all very excited!

We are pleased to officially announce that Miss Cotton has been appointed to a new position by LIFE Education Trust and is now Assistant Headteacher here at Roxwell. We thank you for your continued support as she begins her new role.

A reminder that next week is the final week that uniform will be available to purchase from the school office. After that, all uniform will be available from One Stop Shop.

Have a great weekend, Maire O'Regan and Sarah Cotton,
