Dear Parents,
Happy New Year and I hope you all had a great Christmas break.

Our new value for this half term is Courageous Optimism. The children will be looking at different ways we can show this both within and outside of school.

I have sent home the hard copy of the last newsletter from December 2019, as it had all the new dates in bold for this term; I just wanted to make sure you had all the dates in your new diaries.

The children have come back to school ready to learn and have been very enthusiastic this week. Class 4 had a brilliant start to their new topic by learning some Greek dancing. Class 2 are very eager to learn more about guinea pigs. Class 1 love their new topics and have enjoyed listening to their Jack and the Beanstalk story and Class 3 have been working hard on their column multiplication.

Thank you for supporting the staggered entry into school in the mornings, which was explained in the newsletter last term. The children settled very easily, liked being able to talk to their teacher individually and there was a very calm feeling in school, while children had plenty of space and time to prepare their equipment for class. When the children arrive into school, there is 'skills type' work prepared for them to do in the classroom, like handwriting, spellings or tables. As always, if you have any questions about this, please don't hesitate to ask.

Thank you to the parents who attended the Safeguarding update today and met Kate Nokes from Project ME. Class 4 are so excited to start the new project and we look forward to seeing the amazing impact it is going to have.

Please remember, all parents must log into Parent Mail to receive the newsletter weekly. If you are not logged into Parent Mail you may miss important letters and information. Mrs Hewlett in the office is willing to help all parents log on and set up an account. Please see Mrs Hewlett in the office any day. If, for any reason, you are unable to download the newsletter we do keep some hard copies in the tray by the reception signing in window, for you to help yourself.

The Roof Raffle will take place on 7th February 2020 at 2.45pm and the winning tickets will be pulled out of the hat at assembly in the school hall. There are some fabulous prizes.
