Boundless Creativity

Dear Parents,

Thanks to the dry weather, we have been able to work hard in class but enjoy many outdoor activities. We have built dens in our school field and walked in the Bluebell Woods. We have enjoyed P.E. with Mr Fewell and played games in our individual bubbles.

I have had a meeting with the Headteacher from Anglo European School to look at interesting transition projects for next year. I will send more details when I have the dates and activities confirmed.

Thank you to the parents of the new EYFS and our own parents who attended the meetings this week with their new teachers. I hope you found it helpful to meet your new teacher and ask any questions that may be on your mind.

A separate letter has been sent out this morning. It is a short summary of the risk assessment. I have staggered the entry and exit to school to make sure that there is adequate space to accommodate everyone. More importantly, there is flexibility if you want to bring siblings to school together or collect siblings together. Please read the letter very carefully as there are some changes that will take place at the start of the term. I will write to you again during the week starting 24th August with any updates that will have an impact on the start of our school year.

The club list has been finalised and there will be an activity every evening after school except Friday evening. This final information about clubs will be given to you in hard copy on 3rd September for you to fill in.

After school club will run every day until 5pm. There will be no breakfast club, however children can come to school and start their learning at 8.10am. Please read today's letter carefully for the full risk assessment.

Please contact me if you need to ask me any questions. I will be in school until the middle of August.

Have a great weekend.

Maire O'Regan and Sarah Cotton
